

REFINED & REVERED

Founding member of the Ten American Painters, an exhibition society of American artists dedicated to the values of originality, imagination, and exhibition quality, Thomas Dewing is best known for his tonalist paintings of aristocratic women. Moody and dreamlike, his paintings keep the viewer at a distance rather than making them an active participant. This summer, that all changes as one of Dewing's famous works, as well as hundreds of other rare and collectible pieces, will be featured in our upcoming June Fine Estates & Collections auction.
